

On 8.20.11 the Rules Committee held a meeting at the request of Jack Slayton to decide and clarify the following:

Are Technical DQ's and Unsportsmanlike DQ's droppable 0's?

All members of the Rules Committee were present
Eric Kimbarl, Tracy Taylor, Tony Reid, Ed Holton, Mark Mackie

The club has several DQ events this season that affect the Championship points standings.

The current Championship Rules do not state if these DQ's are or are not droppable, an unfortunate oversight for such an important issue.

After considerable discussion, and a vote on the topic, by majority vote the Rules Committee ruled as follows:

Technical DQ's result in 0 points for the raceday, and the 0 is not droppable.

Unsportsmanlike DQ's result in 0 points for the raceday, and the 0 is not droppable.

Mr. Bennett protested this decision, and asked for reconsideration. The Rules Committee met again and reconsidered the decision based on the sound arguments provided by Mr. Bennett.

Another vote was taken, and by majority vote the prior ruling was upheld.
